

U.S., USSR Agree On Astronaut Rescues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union were reported Wednesday on the verge of initiating an international agreement on rescue and return of astronauts forced down on foreign territory by space mishaps.

The agreement would supplement the treaty on the peaceful uses of outer space, which came into force Oct. 10. Diplomats hoped to have the agreement completed in time for action by the General Assembly before it adjourns next Tuesday.

Informed American sources said that only one article of the 10 in the agreement was still in dispute—because of objections by nations of Western Europe.

The sources said they hoped this question would be settled by Thursday afternoon, when the legal subcommittee of the U.N. Committee on Peaceful Uses of Outer Space begins discussion of the agreement.

The draft agreement, made public by the United Nations, states that "if, owing to accident, distress, emergency or unintended landing, the personnel of a spacecraft land in territory under the jurisdiction of a contracting party, it shall immediately take all possible steps to rescue them and render them all necessary assistance."

If astronauts land at sea, the agreement says, and parties to the agreement can help, they

House Bill Hikes Social Security Benefits, Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Wednesday, 381 to 2, a bill boosting Social Security benefits and taxes and tightening requirements on state welfare programs.

But a fight brewed in the Senate, threatening the timetable that would send the first additional payments flowing to 24 million beneficiaries early in March.

The row is over the compromise bill's welfare sections, which are designed to slow the growth of assistance to families with absent fathers and to require more adult welfare recipients to work.

For those under the contributory Old Age and Disability Systems, the bill means benefit increase of at least 13 per cent.

For persons earning more than $6,600 a year in covered employment and for their employers, it means tax increases. The maximum increase for each would be $52.80 next year, more in future years.

The minimum benefit for those now on the rolls, presently $44 a month, would go to $55. The maximum, now $142, would go to $160.50. A wife 65 or older would increase the basic payment by one-half. In the far future, a retired couple would qualify for as much as $323.

One of the most controversial of the new welfare provisions would set a limit on government-aided state programs for children in families with absent fathers. It would not apply to those whose fathers had died or become disabled.

Under this provision, each state would compute in January 1968 the proportion of aided children to all the children in the state. This ratio then could not be exceeded in any expansion of the program.

States would be required to maintain training and work programs and where possible require adults in aided families to work.

These would be further encouraged by being allowed to retain some earnings without having their relief payments cut.

The three House votes against the measure were cast by Reps. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla.; James A. Burke, D-Mass., and James B. Utt, D-Calif.

Early Holiday Mailing Urged

Postmaster Frank A. Fago, speaking on behalf of Warren and Forest County postmasters, has a timely message for area citizens today regarding Christmas mail.

"If you haven't mailed your gifts and cards yet, please do it now."

The postmaster noted that the ancient historian Herodotus wrote of the early post-runners: "Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their rounds." That was before ice storms could freeze railroad switches, ground planes and make highway travel treacherous, Fago said.

During winter, severe weather conditions can be the deciding factor in mail delivery. That, coupled with heavy Christmas mail volumes, highlights the fact that early December is the time for early mailing plus the use of ZIP code on all mail.

U.S. Fighting Men Receive Avalanche of Presents

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans hoping to make Christmas a little brighter for U.S. fighting men in Vietnam have sent them everything from a ton of popcorn to a greeting 570 feet long.

Across the country, a survey showed Wednesday, schools, churches, civic groups, the Red Cross, war veterans' organizations and labor unions are showering gifts, post cards, letters and tape recordings.

The college students of Texas Tech, in Lubbock, Tex., alone came up with 18,000 post cards. A message on each card says: "Because of you, America breathes a little easier, America sleeps a little sounder and Americans walk a little taller. Merry Christmas and thanks."

At Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, there was a campus drive for 10,000 Christmas cards with greetings printed in English and Vietnamese.

The Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal collected the names of 3,000 soldiers from its six-state circulation area and mailed them to readers who wanted to send packages, letters or cards. Each name was given out 15 times.

The Salem (Ore.) Capital Journal and the Eugene (Ore.) Register-Guard published a total of 795 names of servicemen from their circulation areas.

The ton of popcorn was provided by a popcorn company in Lansing, Mich., and 50 students at East Lansing Junior High School packaged it in 2,000 one-pound bags. The Lansing Building Trade Council and Junior Chamber of Commerce provided cartons for shipment, and workers at an auto plant paid the freight.

Residents of Huntsville, Ala., "adopted" the 93rd Evacuation Hospital in Vietnam and sent 800 presents for the staff and patients. The presents included a $1,200 sound and recording system for the hospital.

The Pi Sigma Epsilon fraternity at Kansas Wesleyan University in Salina, Kan., produced a great, long roll one foot wide and 570 feet long with 1,200 signatures of students and townspeople.

Author of Nepotism Ban Happy It's Established

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man who persuaded Congress to clamp down on nepotism in government is happy "the principle has been firmly established" against it but he's not too happy over a provision added by the Senate.

Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, who waged a lonely six-year fight, said Wednesday he objects to Senate language which would result in an exemption for a veteran of military service where the nepotism ban would result in a nonveteran getting the job.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., who supported Smith, said the Senate was adamant on the veterans question. But he told Smith: "I believe the great majority of the kinds of practices you have striking at will be removed by this bill."

Smith's nepotism ban was written into the federal pay raise-postal increase bill which the Senate sent to President Johnson Wednesday. It goes into effect when the President signs the bill, which is expected promptly.

Specific exemptions were provided for relatives already on the rolls. But in time as they leave the federal payrolls nepotism could pretty much fade away.

The ban applies to all three branches of the federal government and ranges from small post offices through Congress itself and the White House.

An Associated Press survey Wednesday showed that the ban applies to all three branches of the federal government and ranges from small post offices through Congress itself and the White House.

The British-built jet went down after a fire originating in the rear of the ship caused the rudder and tail to separate from the craft.

A hearing into the accident is being conducted by the National Transportation Safety Board. It is expected to end Thursday.

A possibility that leaking fluid from the ship's hydraulic system may have been ignited is under study.

The witnesses questioned Wednesday by a panel of experts were E. C. Potter, Mohawk's assistant vice-president for engineering, and Robert A. Schilling, a maintenance inspector for the Federal Aviation Administration assigned to Mohawk's Utica, N.Y., headquarters.

The oldest forms of actual writing were in the Sumerian language. The words chichory, hyssop, myrrh and saffron all were borrowed from this ancient language.

There is nothing illegal about the practice—called nepotism—but it has been the subject of wide criticism over the years.

"Many of these relatives may do a good job," Smith said, "but the over-all interest of the government is against the practice and those good employees can get a job in some offices on their merits rather than using relationship as a leverage."

He tried to attach it to a federal pay bill back in 1964 but was defeated on a 70-31 standing vote.

Smith believes the enforcement comes through language stating that any employee "appointed, employed, promoted or advanced" in violation of the section may not be paid.

"The Civil Service Commission would draw regulations," Smith said, "but the law is so specific that very little will be needed."

New Strategy Emerges In World Gold Market

LONDON (AP) — A new strategy in the world gold market emerged Wednesday to protect the dollar and possibly put a squeeze on France, chief opponent of the United States in the international monetary wars.

The broad aim of the strategy, worked out last weekend at a meeting of central bankers with France excluded, is to channel gold sales through the official international pool in London and freeze out speculators.

Since the Bank of France has dropped out of the pool, the French and their shaky economy may have to bear the brunt of private speculative hoarding. That means the French could be forced to put up their own resources or back down in President Charles de Gaulle's fight against the dollar.

As the new plan became known, first indications were that speculators already were beginning to be frozen out of their past sources and were turning to the Paris gold market, or to less serious speculation in silver.

Central bankers of the seven members of the gold pool met in Basel, Switzerland, last weekend. These seven—the United States, Britain, Switzerland, West Germany, Italy, Belgium and the Netherlands—are pledged to cooperate in supplying gold buyers from their own reserves at the official U.S. price of $35 an ounce.

Reports of the Basel agreement first leaked out in two of London's leading newspapers, the Times and the Financial Times. They were later confirmed in broad outline by official sources, but there was no public statement.

Under the new plan, the central banks of the seven gold pool countries have agreed to ban gold sales on credit or for future delivery. This ban limits the speculators' maneuvering and has in fact been in force in London since the gold rush began just after devaluation of the pound Nov. 18.

In addition, the gold pool members agreed to restrict all sales to other central banks except through the pool. That would give the pool members a chance to scrutinize all potential sales and refuse orders which stem from large-scale speculation. The policy now is to supply only legitimate requests for gold to back up currency.

First results were seen Wednesday in London, Brussels and Paris. Bullion dealers in London stopped supplying big private buyers, although there apparently were some small sales. In the past, if a foreign buyer paid cash in dollars or Swiss francs, he could get a one-kilogram—2.2-pound—bar of gold worth roughly $1,230, with no questions asked. Dealers said that as of Wednesday, he couldn't get it. This seemed to indicate some sort of informal advice had been passed to dealers by the Bank of England not to supply plungers in the gold market.

Soviet 5-Day Week Not Working Out

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
MOSCOW—The five-day work week being introduced in the Soviet Union is, as promised, bringing a change in the way of life. But the change is not always the intensified pursuit of culture and education that was hopefully predicted.

According to a report printed Wednesday, the sale of vodka has increased sharply, the reading of books has declined and the people are wasting more time than ever on their days off standing in line at food stores, barber shops and bath houses.

The government's decision in 1966 for a gradual transfer of all workers to a five-day week, retaining a total of 41 hours, was welcomed with enthusiasm by most people in the Soviet Union. Factory directors in particular acclaimed experiments with the five-day week and said that it raised workers' morale and productivity.

But as factories began to give their employees two days off instead of one, the Soviet Union's still inadequate network of stores and other service facilities also hurried to take part in the five-day week.

All stores except food shops began to close on Sundays and the food shops reduced their Sunday hours. Most barber shops, women's hairdressing salons and dance halls also closed on Sundays, only a handful remaining open.

Libraries curtailed their Saturday and Sunday hours, frustrating many of the eight million Soviet part-time students who do most of their studying on weekends.

The shortcomings in the transfer to a five-day work week were criticized today in Literaturnaya Gazeta, the weekly publication of the Union of Soviet Writers.

Old Newspapers Make Good Livestock Feed

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Old newspapers, the traditional wrapper for fresh fish and lining for the pantry shelves, make excellent dairy livestock feed when mixed with the right portions of molasses.

Says Dr. Earl M. Kesler, a dairy scientist at Pennsylvania State University, whose findings were reported Wednesday in the current issue of the Journal of Dairy Sciences.

You grind up the old papers and mix the shreds with old-fashioned, sticky sorghum molasses. The way Dr. Kesler mixes it, the unlikely combination comes out dry and stays that way, like shreds of breakfast cereal. The mixture makes a novel and nutritious cattle feed.

The test heifers ate about two and a half pounds of newspaper daily. They seemed able to digest the newspaper-molasses ration as well as the control heifers digested the more traditional feed, the scientists reported.

Moreover, Dr. Kesler said, the heifers showed equal preference for daily newspapers and slick magazines.

The findings, said Dr. Kesler, "could help alleviate the expected food deficit that now threatens the world by making available a cheap and nutritious cattle feed that would not compete with man's own food needs."

The Penn State study was aimed at finding a cheap, efficient method of getting molasses as well as fiber "roughage" into a single cattle diet. Molasses, which is presently in plentiful supply, actually stimulates the animal's digestive processes, the researchers said.

With the Penn State process, it was possible to add as much as 48 per cent molasses to the mix, because it all came out dry.

"Normally, it's not easy to add molasses because it's very sticky and difficult to mix evenly," Dr. Kesler explained. "It also picks up moisture so readily that the feed cakes when more than 10 per cent molasses is used."

Kesler estimated the dry newspaper-molasses mixture could be made to sell for about $35 a ton. He said that a number of dried molasses products already are on the market. But because of transportation problems for the molasses they cost as much as $80 a ton.

Colts' 'Forgotten Five' Vs. 'Fearsome Foursome'

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Forgotten Five must contain the Fearsome Foursome if the Baltimore Colts are to win the National Football League's Coastal Division championship Sunday.

The Fearsome Foursome is the agile, mobile and hostile defensive line which has helped propel the Los Angeles Rams to a 10-1-2 record.

The Forgotten Five, Baltimore's shuttling troops on offense, is not unlike any other group of interior linemen-warrior working and generally obscure. But they have contributed mightily to Baltimore's unbeaten record of 11 victories and two ties.

Last Oct. 15, the two lines met head-on and a 24-24 tie resulted. Another tie in Los Angeles Sunday would give the Colts' the title. Otherwise the winner of the game will go against Green Bay or Dec. 23 for the Western Conference championship.

The Rams' first line of defense includes tackles Merlin Olsen and Roger Brown, flanked by ends Deacon Jones and Lamar Lundy. They average about 275 pounds, none is under 6-foot-5, and have from six to 11 years experience.

Jones and Olsen were on The Associated Press' NFL All-Star team announced Tuesday, and the Fearsome Foursome name is well known around the NFL.

Opposing them Sunday will be five players whose names even rabid Baltimore fans would have a hard time recalling—tackles Bob Vogel and Sam

Ball, guards Glenn Ressler and Dan Sullivan, and center Dick Szymanski.

Szymanski and Vogel have gained all-star recognition in the past, but failed to make even the second team this year. Sullivan is in his sixth season but only his second as a starter, while Ball and Ressler became starters this year.

"The Rams' defensive line is unmatched in pro football, as far as I'm concerned," said Ball, who admits he was "thrown into deep water" against Jones in only his third game as a starter.

"They're not only big, but fast and agile," Vogel said of the Rams. "You block them again and again, and they keep coming. And they're tall enough to knock down passes even when you block them."

"They concentrate on breaking down the passing pocket," said Szymanski. "They don't blitz much, but they stunt on the line and confuse the running game."

Sullivan said the Rams were hard to chart because of the tackle-tackle and tackle-end games they play to confuse the blocking and get to quarterback John Unitas.

"They want someone to get No. 19 (Unitas)," Sullivan said, "so they create action in front of us in hopes of picking one of us off."

The praise of the Rams is sincere, but the Colts hardly view their cause as hopeless.

"For the first time since I've been a pro," said Vogel, a five-year veteran, "I have a great deal of pride in our line. Always before, we've been criticized for various reasons. But in less than a year, we've just about rebuilt the line and we're doing the job."

Combined Pro Draft Set for January 30

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced Wednesday that the combined player draft of the American and National Football Leagues will start Tuesday, Jan. 30, at the Belmont Plaza Hotel in New York.

The Minnesota Vikings, who acquired the New York Giants' special bonus pick last year in the Fran Tarkenton deal, will get the first selection.

Rozelle said the draft will consist of 17 rounds and is expected to last two or more days with 26 teams participating, including the new Cincinnati franchise in the AFL.

A total of 462 players will be selected, including 28 extra selections voted for the new Cincinnati Bengals who will begin play as the AFL's 10th team in 1968.

Drafting will be in reverse order of the teams' win-loss percentage rating in the combined 1967 standings of both leagues. Coin flips will determine priority in case of ties.

As was the case last year, only athletes who have completed their college eligibility will be selected. Both the AFL and NFL eliminated drafting redshirts in the first combined draft last March.

If a player has not completed his eligibility he may not be drafted until five football seasons have elapsed from the time he first entered a recognized college or university.

Cincinnati will get first and last pick in each of the 17 rounds, except for the first round where it will be second and last, plus a third pick in the second, third and fourth rounds and all eight AFL picks (Miami excepted) in the sixth rounds for a total of 45.

Michaels Nears Kicking Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The 10 straight field goals kicked by Lou Michaels of Baltimore are two short of the record of 12 in the National Football League, check by the NFL office Wednesday revealed Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns kicked 12 straight in 1953 and was tied by Bobby Layne of Detroit in a string that started in 1956 and ended in 1957.

Dragon Mat Team Hosts Tough Erie East Tonite

Something has to give when Warren Area High School's wrestling team hosts power-house Erie East at 8 p.m. tonight.

The Dragons opened with a victory over Erie Prep on Saturday and the Warriors represent the first hurdle on the way to what could be a very successful season.

Coached by colorful Bill Brabender, whose antics are usually worth the price of admission alone, East is 2-0. The Warriors whipped Tech Memorial, 33-10, in their initial outing, then romped Academy last week by a 38-2 score.

Several veterans are back on the mats for the Warriors, including ace 103-pounder Clark

DeForce, Norm Davis at 138 and Fletcher Carr, runner-up last season to the PIAA State Champ at 180-pounds. Carr has wrestled heavyweight in East's first two matches, but may be down to 180 tonight, the weight he will compete at in the season-end tournaments.

Dragon Coach Mike Weber has a "string" going against East and would like to extend it tonight. The Blue and White defeated the Warriors last season, the only time in Weber's eight-year tenure at WAHS.

After eliminations this week, Warren will put the same lineup on the mats that won over Prep: 95-junior Bob Seagust, 103-junior Mark Williams, 110-junior Dane Sorensen, 120-junior Steve Jones, 127-senior co-captain Doug Sorensen, 133-senior Jim Mead, 138-senior Steve Kaiser, 145-junior Mike Maines, 154-senior Jay Lowe, 165-senior Bob Thompson, 180-senior co-captain Darrell Pusateri, heavyweight-junior Lee Bryan.

Co-Captain Doug Sorensen will be protecting a streak of 28 straight dual match victories tonight. He registered a first period pin in the Prep match.

Junior varsity matches will start at 6:30 with the varsity bouts slated to get underway at 8 p.m. Probable varsity lineups will be as follows:

WARREN Seagust 95, Williams 103, Sorensen 110, Jones 120, Sorensen 127, Mead 133, Kaiser 138, Maines 145, Lowe 154, Thompson 165, Pusateri 180, Bryan Hvy.

EAST Brown 95, DeForce 103, Wasson 112, Atkinson 120, Lucas 127, Jendloch 133, Davis 138, Truitt 145, Darby 154, Steneck 165, Thompson 180, Carr Hvy.

Pair Oilers On AFL's Rush Stats

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston, tied with New York for the American Football League's Eastern Division lead, has put the foot back into football.

Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell, a pair of tough running backs, have been the main cogs in the Oilers' offense and statistically, they show the best average gain per carry in the league.

Official figures released Wednesday show Granger, the No. 2 rusher in the AFL, and Campbell, ninth, both are averaging 4.9 yards a carry, tops in the league.

Granger has gained 918 yards in 188 carries and Campbell has gone 405 yards in 83 attempts. Jim Nance still leads all rushers with 1,052 yards in 245 carries, a 4.3 average.

Oakland's George Blanda booted four field goals against Houston and took over the scoring lead with 104 points. George Sauer of New York caught nine passes against Kansas City and moved into first place among pass receivers with 62 for the season.

Greenville Finds 72 Lucky Number

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The number 72 has special significance for the Greenville High School basketball team this season.

They've won their first four games and all with winning scores of 72 points. They beat Lakeview 72-52, Saegertown 72-55, Lakeview again 72-48 and Conneaut Lake 72-61.

Smashed Nose Won't Bench Don Meredith

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Don Meredith will start the game at San Francisco with his broken nose protected by a plastic mask underneath his helmet.

Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys said Wednesday.

Meredith has returned to work-outs after a visit to a hospital to get his nose repaired. It was broken in the game with Philadelphia Sunday.

"I don't believe he will be handicapped a great deal," said Landry at his weekly press conference. "I think he will be able to see all right and the plastic will protect it well from further injury."

He explained that Meredith needed to play so he would be in better shape for the Eastern Conference playoff game with Cleveland here Dec. 24.

Landry said his defense was starting to mature "real good" and was playing its best of the season. But, he added, "we are not where we want to be as to quarterback."

He explained that Meredith's injuries had prevented this and that was a reason why he wanted Dandy Don to play at San Francisco.

The ticket sale has begun for Coach Resigns

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Claude Retherford, basketball coach at Idaho State University, has resigned because of ill health, the university announced Wednesday.

Dan Miller, 26, Retherford's assistant, will step up to head coach.

Oakland Has Top Offense And Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland has wrapped up the American Football League's Western Division crown and now the Raiders are taking aim on the league's team offense and defense titles as well.

Coach John Rauch's club is leading the league in both departments according to statistics released by the league today.

The Raiders have gained 4,389 yards over-all, an average of 365.8 per game. On defense, they've allowed 2,611 yards—a league leading 920 rushing and 1,691 passing.

San Diego trails Oakland by just 36 yards in offensive yards. Defensively, Oakland has a wide edge over second place New York, allowing 133 yards less than the Jets.

New York is tops in pass defense with 1,560 yards allowed and the Jets also lead in pass offense with 3,173 net yards gained.

Bing Equals Record In Pistons Victory

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Bing equaled a team record for most points in a quarter and finished with 43 for the game as the Detroit Pistons whipped the New York Knicks 129-117, Wednesday in the National Basketball Association.

Bing, the league's leading scorer, drilled in seven baskets in nine attempts plus six free throws in the third period to match the Piston mark originally set by George Yardley in 1958 and then equalled later by Don Ohl.

Eddie Miles, finishing with 29 points, joined Bing in a one-two assault against the Knicks, who lost their fifth straight, Detroit led 57-52 at the half.

Walt Bellamy had 28 for the Knicks, who played without regular forward Willis Reed, who suffered an ankle injury Tuesday night.

Bill Bradley, in his third game with the Knicks, scored 10 points and picked up seven assists plus five rebounds.

Don May Sparks Dayton Upset Over Louisville

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Don May scored 25 points and pulled down 20 rebounds in leading the Dayton Flyers to a 63-47 upset basketball victory over the fifth-ranked Louisville Cardinals Wednesday night.

Unseld was the only Cardinal in double figures, scoring 22 points and grabbing 15 rebounds. Dayton sophomore Jim Gottschall held Louisville's Butch Beard to his lowest scoring night ever. Beard, a junior, got six points.

State Supreme Court Upholds Local Judge in Knupp Case

By a 4 to 3 decision the Pennsylvania Supreme Court has upheld Judge Alexander C. Flier Jr. and affirmed his decision in the Montana Knupp will case, according to William E. Rice, Warren County register and recorder.

Chief Justice Bell wrote the majority opinion, finding that the purported will of the late Warren woman did not meet the provision of the Pennsylvania Wills Act in that it had not been signed at the end but only in the first line and in the third line of the attestation clause. The opinion also noted that neither witness saw the decedent sign the will and that neither had been present when the other witnessed the alleged will.

Justice Bell referred to Judge Flier's opinion as "lengthy, analytical and excellent."

Cost of Settling An Estate Due to Go Up

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau) HARRISBURG — The cost of settling an estate in Warren and other sixth class counties is due to go up after the first of the year, according to legislation signed into law by the Governor.

Reason: fees in many instances have been revised upward.

For example, at the moment the fee to be paid the register of wills in Warren County for granting letters of administration (exclusive of state tax) in an estate of $100,000 or over is $25. After January 1 when the new law goes into effect, a new category has been established of from $75,000 to $100,000 for which the fee will be $45, plus $10 more for each additional $100,000 or fraction thereof.

Other categories have been changed too. The fee for letters of administration in the case of an estate of from $1000 to $5000 jumps from $10 to $13, while from $5000 to $10,000 the register of wills fee will be increased from $15 to $17. In the $10,000 to $20,000 category the fee will be $21 (as opposed to $18 at present with an estate up to $50,000.)

The current $50,000 to $100,000 classification for which a fee of $22 currently is charged will be eliminated to make way for five new categories as follows: $20,000 to $30,000—$25; $30,000 to $40,000—$28; $40,000 to $50,000—$33; $50,000 to $75,000—$37; plus the $75,000 to $100,000 category—$45.

LUNDAHL
Warren Pupil Treasurer

A committee of administration, faculty and representative students from Warren Area High School has chosen Christine Lundahl to represent the Pennsylvania Association of Student Councils as state treasurer.

The candidate, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lundahl, of 9 Redwood st., was chosen on the basis of public speaking, knowledge of the community and service to Student Council.

Chris was one of several candidates. One of the major highlights of her term of office will be attending the National Student Council convention to be held in Texas. At this meeting, Chris will not only represent her community of Warren but will be representing the state of Pennsylvania.

She will be a member of a state delegation numbering approximately 30 people.

Miss Knupp was found dead in her home at the corner of Market and Fourth streets on April 2, 1964, her closest survivors being three sisters, none of whom resided here. As no will was located at the time of her death, the sisters petitioned the register of wills to issue letters of administration to the Warren National Bank. In the process of sorting the papers of the estate, the administrator found the purported will which became the subject of litigation, it being dated March 1, 1952.

Sugar Grove Youth Escapes Bad Injury

A 17-year-old Sugar Grove area youth escaped serious injury in a one-car traffic accident at 8:50 p. m. Tuesday on Route 957 in the village of Lander.

State police trooper William C. Dudinack said a car driven by Scott N. Forsgren, of RD 1, Sugar Grove, swerved to avoid hitting a parked car, went out of control and rolled over.

Forsgren suffered a laceration to his right hand but was not treated, police said.

Damage to the 1963 Rambler was listed at $400 or total. State police also recorded a 9:30 p. m. traffic mishap which occurred at 9:30 p. m. Monday on Fox Hill road in which a 47-year-old woman was taken to Warren General Hospital for observation for a possible hip injury.

According to the police report, a car operated by Josephine S. Gage, Fox Hill road, RD 1, Russell, traveling south at an excessive rate of speed, came into a curve, saw an oncoming car driven by David Greene, Dutch Hill road, RD 1, Russell, slid sideways after brakes were applied and struck the Greene vehicle.

Total damage was listed at $2,200.

Worker Killed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A rendering company worker who was on top of a dump truck load of fat and bones was killed Wednesday when the truck bed shifted.

The worker, John Blacksmith, 65, of Millvale was trying to push the load down the inclined bed when it rose and crushed him against the roof of a loading dock at Inland Products, Inc.

Mrs. Nichols appealed to Orphans Court and Judge Flier upheld the register. Appeal was then taken to State Supreme Court where the original ruling was again upheld.

Local National Guard To Undergo Changes

The number of men in the Warren unit of the National Guard will jump from 51 to 82 under a new reorganization plan.

The reorganization will open about 30 spots in the Warren unit. Since few transfers from other areas will be made to fill out the unit, about 30 young men will be able in the future to sign up for enlistment. At present, however, no enlistments are being accepted.

Lt. Kennel, of the Guard headquarters at Erie, Wednesday outlined what effects the plan, announced by Guard officials this week, will have in the Warren area.

The headquarters office of Co. A, of which the Warren unit is a part, will be switched from Corry to Bradford.

As the number of men in the Warren unit (the second and third rifle platoons of the company) is increased from 51 to 82; the strength of units at Corry and Bradford will also be increased. The Corry unit, which now has 78 men, will have 82. The Bradford unit, which now has 76 men, will have 92.

The Corry unit will become a part of Co. C, which will have headquarters in Erie. The Corry unit will consist of the second and third rifle platoons of Co. C.

The Bradford unit, which will contain the headquarters of Co. A, will change from a maintenance company to an infantry company.

Both companies A and C are parts of the Erie-based 112th Infantry Battalion, which also includes Co. B, with units in Meadville and Franklin.

Area units, as part of the 56th Infantry Brigade, will be switched from the 28th Infantry Division to the 42nd Infantry Division. (The 56th Infantry Brigade is made up of three battalions, including the 112th. The entire 56th brigade will be switched to the 42nd division. Under the new plan, the other brigade in Pennsylvania will remain in the 28th division.)

The 42nd division will have headquarters in New York, and contain units from New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. The 28th Division will contain units from Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Maryland.

Although area units will be switched to a New York based division, they will remain part of the Pennsylvania Army National Guard.

The number of drills required for men in the 112th Infantry Battalion will remain the same under present plans, which do not call for the battalion to become part of the "Selected Reserve Force" (a force of reservists and guardsmen who are better-equipped and train more often than normal units).

Final federal approval of Pennsylvania's reorganization plans is expected before Jan. 1. Implementation of the plans is expected by March 31. By June 1, the Army National Guard throughout the nation should be in its new eight-division, 18-brigade combat structure.

Study Ways To Modernize Court System

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Constitutional Convention's Judiciary Committee began studying Wednesday three proposals to modernize Pennsylvania's court system, including one to create a new Commonwealth Court.

Two of the proposals were introduced Wednesday. The third and most sweeping, a proposal to implement the state Bar Association's court plan, had been introduced a day earlier.

The Commonwealth Court proposal was introduced from the floor by Justin D. Jiroliano of Bethlehem, a former state senator. The plan was co-sponsored by another Northampton County delegate, Rep. James F. Prendergast of Easton.

The proposed court would have original jurisdiction in any case in which the state appears as a litigant. It would be staffed by five judges, to be elected in 1968 for 10-year terms.

Jiroliano's proposal would assure a bipartisan court by stipulating that no more than three judges from the same political party could serve at one time.

The court would hold sessions in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Scranton and Williamsport.

Dauphin County Court now functions as Commonwealth Court. Five of the court's six judges are Republicans.

"This is a much needed amendment to the Constitution," Jiroliano said. "It would give the people of the commonwealth the kind of court we need today to expedite justice."

The second judiciary proposal introduced Wednesday would create a Judicial Nominating Commission, made up of a common pleas court judge, three law school deans and three lawyers, to select candidates for supreme and superior court judgeships.

The proposal, introduced by Herman M. Buck of Uniontown, differs from the Bar Association's plan to create a Nominating Commission made up of a judge, three lawyers and three laymen.

Other key provisions of the Bar Association plan would abolish the minor judiciary system, replacing it with a network of community courts, and unify all of the state's courts for administration under the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Other proposals introduced Wednesday would increase the number of House seats from 203 to 210, and authorize the legislature to provide for local option on consolidation plans for local governmental units.

A total of 10 proposals for constitutional change have been placed before the convention since it opened eight days ago. All of the recommendations have been referred to appropriate committees for study.

In other business Wednesday, convention delegates took care of a housekeeping chore by approving a $1.56 million budget that will finance their 90-day session.

Nearly half of the budget, $774,644, will be used to pay the salaries of the 163 delegates and 237 staff members.

The delegates took more than 30 minutes to debate and finally adopted a resolution setting a holiday recess from Dec. 21 to Jan. 2.

Some delegates wanted to return Jan. 3, but a motion to extend the recess to that date was defeated.

Others were successful in having the recess date changed from Dec. 22 to the 21.

House GOP Leaders Ask Group Getting State Aid For 'Facts'

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Republican leaders called in the heads of the state-related and state-aided colleges, universities and hospitals Wednesday to present them with the fiscal facts of life.

"We attempted to explain in as graphic terms as possible what their drastic fiscal problems are," commented House Speaker Kenneth B. Lee, R-Sullivan, after the briefing session.

"The only way we will be able to get enough (tax) votes to appropriate their money is for them to sell the people in their areas on the desperation of the situation."

"It's my impression that they are ready to get to work and help solve their dilemmas." Among the 25 institutional representatives attending the session were President Eric Walker of Pennsylvania State University, and Chancellor Wesley W. Posvar of the University of Pittsburgh, Temple University, the third state-related college, was represented by William G. Willis, a vice president.

"This is a real serious crisis," Walker commented afterward. "We're going into the second half of the school year without the money to do it. If we don't get our funds, we are confronted with a precipitous rise in tuition and no pay increases for the faculty."

"We, the college presidents, are agreed that we must let our people know — our faculty, students, their parents and alumni — just how difficult things are."

The invitations went out to the institutions Tuesday evening under the signature of Appropriations Chairman H. Jack Seltzer, R-Lebanon, to dramatize the difficulty the GOP majority is having in securing tax votes.

Seltzer joined Lee and Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, R-Allegheny, Majority Whip Robert J. Butera, R-Montgomery, and Majority Caucus Secretary Alvin C. Bush, R-Lycoming, in conducting the briefing.

"We are as far apart or farther than we were two weeks ago," Lee said in assessing the tax situation. "We have wrung all we can wring now. If we can't pass a tax program by next Wednesday we won't get it done until next year."

The GOP leadership has been frustrated at every turn this week in attempts to win enough support for at least a $104 million partial tax package. This much is needed to provide the institutions with approximately two-thirds of their recommended appropriations.

Gov. Shafer, a party to the partial agreement, had consented to defer the remaining $50 million until next year.

However, Lee commented: "While I don't think we are in a position to change the leadership agreement at this point, there is a growing mood in our caucus to take care of the entire problem."

"Many members feel that to do otherwise would be taking the easy way out. As a practical matter, there is a very likely possibility that if the schools do not receive all their money this year, they will not get the other $50 million next year."

Lee advised that even with the minimal Democratic help promised by the minority leadership, Republicans still were 30 votes short of passing the most contentious tax in the $104 million package — a proposal to close the sales tax exemption on trade-in values.

Democrats have pledged between 11 and 15 votes for the package, depending upon the tax in question.

But Lee commented: "We suggested to the presidents that they sit down with the other side. We agree that it is our (Republican) primary responsibility for the tax program, but it is too late to quibble about primary responsibility."

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a steady reader who was adopted at birth. For the 50th time I've been asked by a "friend" if I ever wonder who my real parents are. How can I get it through their unthinking heads that I am living with my real parents? Is there some set rule that says parents must go through the motions of childbirth? Where does love come in? I mean no disrespect to my natural mother but I often thank God for putting me into the home of the wonderful people who raised me. It was a lucky break.

I don't think I've said this very well, Ann, but I've been wanting to say it for a long time and I feel like a million dollars now that I've said it. Thanks for the opportunity. — NO STRANGERS LIVE HERE

DEAR NO STRANGER: What a wonderful letter! It sounds as if someone has done a beautiful job of making you feel wanted and loved. Cheers for the whole family.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from the teen-age boy who signed himself Pressure Cooker was especially interesting to me. When our son Bob was 14 he came to me and said he didn't know what to do about his "terrible temper." Bob expressed himself much in the same way as the boy who wrote. He described his uncontrollable feelings of anger and confessed that he had once kicked the dog because someone had been nasty to him at school.

I bought a big rubber barrel at the hardware store and told Bob that whenever he got mad to go to the basement and kick the barrel.

It worked wonders, Ann. "Kicking the barrel" became a family affair. When my husband and I had a disagreement we would go down to the basement together and kick the barrel. There were times when that barrel did the job of two marriage counselors!

Our "little boy" is married now, and when we asked him what he wanted for a housegift guess what he asked for? The barrel. — PROBLEM SOLVED

DEAR SOLVED: The barrel idea is well worth imitating. Thank you!

No Need To Abandon Safety In Glass Walls, Doors

People today have a great desire to be nearer their surroundings. This feeling is reflected in the continuing trend of using large glass walls and sliding glass doors in the homes. Naturally this "open world" living is at its best when no barriers interrupt the large view from outdoors.

Parents, however, are concerned about the breakage of such glass doors and walls, and of injury to their children.

To provide the extra margin of safety, as now required under FHA regulations and various state and local building codes, homebuilders and remodelers are increasing their use of Tuf-flex and Tuf-flex 200 tempered glass because of its inherent safety characteristics.

Tuf-flex is available in a wide range of glass types to meet every building need. It is available in regular clear plate glass, grey, bronze, and bluish-green heat absorbing tinted glasses to reduce sun glare and sun heat gain. These various colors can be matched with draperies and interior color schemes. During the daylight hours, the different tinted glasses, especially the grey, will have a mirror-like effect from outside the home so as to provide more privacy for those on the inside.

This Tuf-flex tempered glass, which is three to five times stronger than untempered plate glass of the same thickness, can also be used in Thermopane insulating glass units to give safety plus the added advantages of protection against excessive heat transfer through the glass.

Should the Tuf-flex be broken under extreme abuse, it disintegrates into small, comparatively harmless particles resembling rock salt.

Because of this tempered glass, it is possible for families to have a brighter home that allows the outdoor surroundings to beam in, and at the same time, provide safety for all involved.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently you published a letter from a woman who was bemoaning the fact that she was over-endowed. (When the salesgirls saw her coming, they used to sigh, "Good grief, here comes old D-cup!")

You answered by telling her about a survey made in your office which revealed that 10 out of 11 girls said they would rather have too much than too little.

Surveys don't help the woman whose bra straps cut into her shoulders like knives because they are carrying such a load. Surveys don't help the unfortunate girl who can't wear sweaters or scoop neck dresses or clingy fabrics and is called by nicknames you couldn't print in your column.

Why didn't you tell the woman who wrote that the super-blessed females can now be helped by surgery? The operation is not dangerous. The surgeon merely removes the excess fatty tissue and the woman emerges with normal measurements.

So many problems are insoluble. When one comes along that CAN be solved, I should think you'd be happy to pass the word. — BEEN THERE

DEAR B.T.: You are right. The surgery you describe has helped many women. I was aware of the procedure and I should have suggested it. My apologies to all whose cups runneth over.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35 cents in coin with your request. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WARREN GOLDEN AGERS ENTERTAIN

Approximately one hundred and fifty were present at the Warren Golden Age Society's Christmas party for sixty-five members of the state hospital society. A luncheon of home baked cake, coffee and ice cream was served at four long tables which were beautifully decorated in holiday colors. Appropriate music was played at the piano by Mrs. Edward Slick; Charles Maloney and Mrs. V. W. Kirberger played several selections on the harmonica. Candy, packed by the Grange and Home Economics group, was given, and boxes of candy from the state hospital Golden Agers were given to the Warren Golden Agers; then gifts were presented to the state hospital members by their Warren hosts. Pictured at the party, which was held in the YWCA on Monday, are the four officers of the Warren Golden Age Society (seated): Left to right, Charles Bergman, treasurer; Mrs. Madge Kohn, vice president; Mrs. Cecelia Smith, president; Mrs. Tillie Andersen, secretary. Standing are the members of the Warren Golden Age Society who were on the decorating, refreshment and serving committees. (Photo by Mansfield)

Opening lead Three of ♦. It took North and South a while to uncover their spade fit, and, tho they had only a seven card trump suit, four spades proved to be the only game contract that offered a chance for success.

West opened the three of diamonds, and the ace was played from dummy. A heart was led and South put up the king, losing to West's ace. The latter cashed the king of diamonds and then paused before proceeding to consider his next step.

The auction had suggested that South held six hearts and four spades—West recalled that his opponent had bid and rebid hearts before mentioning spades. Since he had shown up with two diamonds, he could not, therefore, have more than one club.

No more tricks were available in the side suits, and the remainder of the deal would be centered on declarer's attempt to establish his hearts. The obvious defense then, was to attack South's trump holding.

Inasmuch as neither defender held four trumps, spade leads would be ineffectual. West, therefore, resorted to the unorthodox tactic of giving his opponent a ruff and discard by leading a third round of diamonds. South wanted to ruff hearts, not diamonds, so in order to preserve dummy's spade holding, he was obliged to trump in his own hand.

A heart was ruffed in dummy and trumps were drawn in three pulls. The queen of hearts was cashed, but, when that suit did not divide evenly, South was thru since he was out of trumps. He ended up two tricks short.

The third round of diamonds forced declarer to play for a three-three division in both spades and hearts. Had West followed a passive line by shifting to a trump, South would have had time to trump out two hearts, one with a low spade and one with the king. He can get back to his hand once in the trump suit, and the second time by ruffing a club. When spades divide evenly, he picks the suit up and his hand is high since the hearts are now established.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1967.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Have some things changed since you planned this day a while back? Then re-evaluate past and present thinking. Don't be gully of substandard action. Be vigilant, serene.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—No labor, no activity will be in vain if plans beforehand are thorough and worthwhile. Venus' position favors artistic pursuits and romance.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Good Mercury influences encourage all written matters, communications generally. Along other lines, be alert lest you commit foolish or needless errors.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—View all matters realistically now. Where can YOU help to improve a situation or straighten out another's warped judgment? Your wife are keen; use them smartly all day.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Waste motion could be costly, as could thoughtless words and procrastination. Solar aspects stimulate your competence and gifts of leadership.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Leave nothing to chance; stress the meticulousness for detail and the accuracy for which the Virgoan is noted. In discussions, try to persuade gently, not with force.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—A good period for making long-range plans, also for completing pending matters. Give your views if asked but, even if they are not adopted, yield to authority gracefully.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Besides regular activities, give some time to imminent needs and desires of children, community, commitments of long standing. In discussions, be the helpful mediator.

SAGITTARIUS (November 24 to December 21)—Acquiesce where such submission is due but, at the same time, keep studying, trying out the good ideas you know can be made workable.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Emphasize your resourcefulness and sense of responsibility now. It will pay off in the week ahead. Do not let down in effort until deals are concluded.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Is it better to change a plan to insure more proficiency, to prevent bungling? Think carefully. Just ONE more careful step may be the answer.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Friendly Neptune rays especially favor doctors, nurses, research, confidential and educational affairs; also, maritime interests.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly intelligent but often puzzling, even to yourself. You grasp situations, learning quickly but, if not strict with yourself, may become satisfied with superficial knowledge. You have talents for music, writing, promotion, originating better methods in practically any craft. You make quick-thinking politicians though you may not care for this field; can do many things well, and more than one at once. Take things less strenuously and preserve health. Birthdate of: Tycho Brahe, Danish astronomer.

SHORTER CONFINEMENTS

St. Luke's Maternity hospital in Bradford (England) has been discharging women within 72 hours after childbirth since 1959. The results have been excellent and compare favorably with women delivered at home and those hospitalized 10 days, as was common in the past. The early discharge plan has been in continuous operation and, to date, approximately 13,000 pregnant women have been managed in this way.

A recent report in the British Medical Journal evaluated the results of this plan on 5,000 women and 9,718 babies. All were considered normal when released. Many in the survey left the hospital on the morning of the second day accompanied by a part-time midwife to help them get settled. Others were held over until the third day. Women with complications remained longer.

Why the hurry? St. Luke's was designed to handle 1,500 confinements a year. In 1958, this figure increased to 2,000 and by 1964, reached 4,000. As a result, the shortage of beds became so acute that patients were discharged in less than 24 hours. There were no deaths and the number readmitted with complications was no greater than among women delivered at home.

What about the infants? There was no difference in the health of babies born at home than in infants whose mothers were hospitalized for 10 days. There was no evidence that early release was harmful to the individual child. Ten died from congenital defects, pneumonia, and other conditions but there was no reason to believe that the babies would have survived had they remained in the hospital.

Mothers who remain in the hospital for 10 days are more likely to breast-feed the child. But when these women were questioned after six weeks, the survey revealed that many had resorted to formula feeding and, in the long run, were less inclined than the others to continue nursing.

TOMORROW: Postnasal Drip.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

EYES AND CIGARET SMOKE

V.E.M. writes: Can anything be done for a woman who gets bloodshot eyes when she is exposed to cigarette smoke?

REPLY

If this reaction is a true allergy rather than irritation from smoke, the woman should carry an allergy remedy that can be used for emergency treatment if exposure is unavoidable. Such products include an antihistamine with or without one of the adrenal steroids such as cortisone.

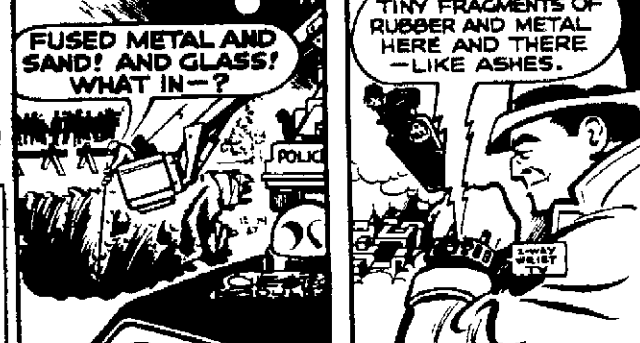

WHY TYKES RUB EYES

Mrs. K. writes: Why do children rub their eyes when sleepy?

REPLY

It has been said that by bed time, bodily secretions including tears diminish. This dryness causes the child to rub his eyelids.

Negotiations on Vietnam

WASHINGTON — There are a lot of interesting and curious facts behind last week's flurry over supposed contacts between Americans and representatives of Hanoi's puppets in South Vietnam, the so-called National Liberation Front.

Alsop

To begin at the beginning, it is a characteristic Communist tactic to make a final desperate effort, at no matter what cost, to gain additional advantages just before going to the table or signing a cease-fire. In Korea, for example, the biggest single Chinese-North Korean offensive of the entire war was launched, at a cost of many thousands of men, just one month before the cease-fire in 1953. Here, beyond question, the aim was to change the truce lines.

This precedent is relevant at the moment because it is beginning to appear that the North Vietnamese are trying the same sort of thing in Vietnam. The first sign was the battle at Loc Ninh, where the enemy commanders all but condemned their own men to death, by hundreds at a time and to no apparent purpose.

The long fight at Dai To showed better enemy leadership than the Loc Ninh battle, but it shared with Loc Ninh the same puzzling characteristic. In brief, the Ia Drang battle in October, 1965, was the last time when the enemy voluntarily sustained a hard fight over many days. From the Ia Drang until Loc Ninh, the other side could always be counted on to break contact, unless absolutely cornered, after no more than 18 hours of fighting. The reversion to the old tactics after two whole years is both radical and highly significant.

In addition, there is more and more evidence that the right interpretation of Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's leviathan strategy paper of last September is the second one — which was not the initial interpretation of the Saigon analysts or of this reporter. In other words, it appears that the Hanoi war-planners have decided to send large elements of their home army into the fighting in South Vietnam.

Signs of movement by at least one North Vietnamese division, and perhaps by two divisions, have by now been observed. At least one new regiment of North Vietnamese regular troops is known to have reached Tchepone in the lower Laos panhandle.

Committing the home army in this manner is the Hanoi war-planners' equivalent of spending capital for a hard-pressed family. Yet it seems rather clear, by now, that they do indeed intend to spend their manpower capital in further fighting like that at Loc Ninh and Dai To. Gen. William Westmoreland expects this and is prepared for it.

Those are the facts on one side of the coin. On the other side are certain political facts already revealed in this space which have now taken on added importance. They begin with the rather obscure publication, just before the Vietnamese election, of a new NLF political platform. The platform's significant passage was a long call for a coalition government, going much further than anything seen before.

Little attention was paid to the NLF platform when it was published because so little propaganda noise accompanied it. Soon thereafter, however, the usual Eastern European diplomats began approaching their American opposite numbers in the usual manner to say that the NLF platform was a most important document to which far too little attention had been paid.

In a quiet way, Moscow joined this chorus. In the same Hungarian report revealing Ho Chi Minh's alleged illness, there were also strikingly interesting passages on the tone being taken by Pham Van Dong and other Hanoi personalities. These, too, pointed toward the NLF platform.

Finally, there has been a whole series of dim but significant signs of an attempt to divide the northern and the southern wars — to put the northern bombing in one box, in short, and to put in quite another box the actual fighting in South Vietnam. Doing this would, of course, serve Hanoi's purposes ideally, if and when the decision is taken to use Hanoi's puppets in the NLF as the active agents of a negotiating maneuver.

By now the betting on some such maneuver in the spring or early summer is beginning to approach even odds, either way, in the very small circle of people who know the real facts. It is very hard indeed, it must be admitted, to judge which way to bet: "against" is perhaps the wise answer; yet the possibility of a negotiating maneuver, keyed to a cry for coalition and a settlement "among Southerners," most emphatically cannot be ruled out any longer.

The reason this is possible, it must be added, is that Hanoi is in a mess. If you think you are succeeding in a war, you go on as before instead of taking radical new courses, as now seems to be happening. But the U. S. government is also likely to be in a mess if this maneuver is, in fact, attempted by Hanoi, as another report will show.

American Motors Moves Into Electric Car Race

WARREN RESCUE CHRISTMAS TREES

AT WARREN RESCUE BUILDING
FOOT OF MARKET ST.

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors unveiled Tuesday a streamlined commuter car, with a lightweight lithium battery system, as its entry in the electric car race among automobile makers.

Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. previously demonstrated actual test models of electric cars, with research still continuing.

No general production of these cars, which could ease the pollution problem, has been scheduled by any automaker.

Industry spokesmen do not believe the present electric cars being developed could force the gas-burners out to pasture. Limited by short range of miles before a battery runs down and by lower speeds, the electric cars would be used mainly for such things as city driving, to relieve traffic congestion and for the numerous short trips made by businesses or families.

American Motors, which is developing the car in conjunction with Gulton Industries of Metuchen, N. J., said the car will be read for extensive road testing within a year. Gulton has developed the lithium battery, and reports the metal is not only lightweight, but also plentiful.

Such a car could be a boon to American Motors, which lost $72 million in the last fiscal year.

AMC officials said the proposed car could seat three persons. It would have a range of 150 miles without recharging and would have a cruising speed of up to 50 miles per hour. It would accelerate from zero to 50 miles per hour in 20 seconds. No price was mentioned.

The developers said the complete system could be recharged 1,000 times over a three-year period. Normally, taking four hours to recharge, it could be done on ordinary house current or with a special outlet. The car is termed the "Amitron."

In October, 1966, General Motors demonstrated two cars, "Electrovair II" and "Electrovair."

Electrovair II, powered by an expensive silver-zinc battery, was built on a standard 1966 Corvair chassis.

Top speed was 80 miles per hour, with the ability to accelerate up to 60 miles per hour in 16 seconds. Total distance for one charge was 40 to 80 miles, depending upon how fast it was driven. The silver zinc battery could only take 100 recharges.

Hope Railbus Will Solve Snow Problems

UPPER DARBY, Pa. (AP) — A transit firm, despite a previous no-go-in-snow, is going to try again to substitute a railbus that can travel on train tracks as well as on highways.

The Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co. origin ally junked plans to buy 50 of the new vehicles when a test bus flunked a traction examination in a demonstration during a snow storm last month in Washington, D. C.

Merritt H. Taylor, Jr., company president, said Wednesday the manufacturer of the railbus may have solved the snow difficulties by substituting wider, steel-studded tires for ordinary rubber ones, and installing rail sweeps and heated sanders.

The railbus has steel wheels concealed under the baggage compartment when the vehicle is on a road. They are lowered to the tracks by a switch, with the driver watching the operation via a small television circuit.

Each bus costs about $50,000. Taylor says they are considerably cheaper than a trolley or railroad-type car and "could vastly reduce the cost of operating trains."

By moving off congested highways to tracks, he said, "they will save daily commuters much time in travel."

"This type of bus eliminates the fixed operation of the rapid transit train which must remain on the tracks and restrict its pickup and discharge of passengers at stations."

Artificial Heart Device Is Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public Health Service researchers unveiled Wednesday a simple new artificial heart device they described as a major advance over existing ones.

Officials said the machine has a number of advantages over that of Dr. Michael DeBakey, developer of the world's first successful device to do part of the work of the heart.

Dr. Lester Goodman of the health service said the main advance is that the new heart-assisting device could be implanted in the chest of a patient. So far, he said it has been implanted only in calves and needs further development before it is ready for use on humans.

Marshall Turner, a mechanical engineer who built the machine, said he believes the research team is close to overcoming the problems.

Turner told a news briefing that the big advantage of the new machine is that it provides a smooth flow of blood. He said this should eliminate the main problem in the pulsating machine developed by DeBakey—blood clots. Some clots have become fatal to heart-assisted patients, Turner said.

While the new device could take over all the work of the heart, Turner said, this would not be done because clots might form in the unworking heart.

Both the new device and that of DeBakey take over some of the work of the heart's left ventricle, the main working and pumping muscle. Both are designed temporarily to aid patients in danger of heart failure.

DeBakey, a surgeon at Methodist Hospital in Houston, Tex., performed the first successful operation using the heart-assisting machine last Aug. 8. The machine had been used previously but all of the patients died.

The new machine, driven by a small electric motor, is about the size of a fist. It pushes the blood with two rotating wheels which run against two blood-carrying tubes, compressing but not closing the tubes.

Two wires from a small transformer pass into the chest of the patient.

The main problem with the new machine, Turner said, is with the motor.

Unemployment Rate Lowest In Six Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate in November showed the sharpest monthly drop in more than six years. It left just under three million unemployed out of a civilian labor force of 78.1 million.

The government, in reporting this reversal of recent trends, attributed most of the improvement to declines in the number of unemployed women adults and teen-agers. These same groups recorded large increases in September and October.

The seasonally adjusted jobless rate for adult males was 2.4 per cent in November, virtually unchanged from the prevailing level for the past year.

The over-all unemployment rate of 3.9 per cent in November was four-tenths of one per cent below that of October. It was 3.5 per cent in November, 1966.

The Labor Department said employment gains in business, state and local governments and the return to work of strikers in manufacturing and transportation contributed to a near 500,000 increase in the nonfarm payroll employment, but that the end of the Ford Motor Co. strike was not fully reflected in the November figures.

Nonwhites accounted for 29 per cent of unemployment in November, but their rate was 1.5 per cent lower than in October. The jobless rate for whites fell from 3.8 per cent in October to 3.4 per cent in November.

The civilian labor force last month was 1.5 million larger than it was in November 1966.

Adult women accounted for about two-thirds of the increase while the adult male force increased nearly 800,000 after little change from 1965 to 1966.

These increases were partially offset by a 200,000 decline in the teen-age labor force.

The government said these changes for the most part reflect shifts in the age distribution of the population.
